

DNS (Domain Name System) translates domain names like `www.google.com` into IP address like `142.250.183.7`.

It helps browsers locate and connect to websites using human-readable names.

